Foreword

I am pleased to welcome you to this CUR sixth graduation ceremony. This awards ceremony for 665 graduands is unusual whether in the congregation extent, whether in the venue or in the joyful smiles hidden behind these masks. All this is due to the COVID-19 pandemic, which not only affects us under these above characteristics, but which also put off this ceremony by eight months. And due to the same pandemic this ceremony is taking place virtually.

Dear graduands, you make us proud today, for having accomplished your duty and carried out the mission for which you have registered. You worked hard for 3 years for some and 4 years for others; we are proud of you, but undoubtedly your parents, your spouses, why not your children are even prouder.

This year we particularly welcome two categories of graduands whose departments are uncovering the fruits of their labour for the first time: those from the Department of Religious Sciences and those from the Post Graduate Diploma in Education (PGDE). The intellectual baggage and, above all the acquired skills will be an invaluable tool that our Church and our country need to take faith and youth to higher levels.

To all of you, our dear graduands here and those who follow us on their television sets, congratulations! Of course these days are neither the brightest, nor the most promising in finding employment. Be brave and patient. Above all, don't wait in inaction, but rather be enterprising, resourceful, innovative and challenging.

Our thanks go to all those who helped us during your studies at Catholic University of Rwanda: the lecturers who followed you day by day making every effort to communicate your skills, facing difficulties of all sorts. Thank you also to the administrative and support staff. Thank you to our partners in Huye and Gisagara districts and beyond.

God bless you !

Msgr Jean-Marie Vianney GAHIZI

Rector
